Galleries to Explore in Paris

By Daniela Bonetto in collaboration with APR

Édith Piaf knew best when she sang Le Vie en rose. The lyrics tell about the joy of finding true love which is exactly the sensation that comes to mind when strolling around Paris along a designer trail leading to five of the best galleries in the city.

POUENAT

[22 Passage Dauphine, 75006]

Situated in the heart of Saint Germain des Prés, this gallery embodies the Pouenat design philosophy, offering its technological expertise to allow designers to showcase their talent. This year, the brand presents luxurious and bold pieces situated between art and design. Whether minimalist or ornate, each piece evokes a timeless elegance – a perfect harmony between tradition and modernity.

GALERIE NEGROPONTES

[60, rue de Verneuil, 75007]

A stone's throw away from the Musée d'Orsay in Paris, the gallery combines art, design and innovative savoir-faire. Run by lifelong friends Sophie NegroPontes and Hervé Langlois, Galerie NegroPontes' ambition is to revive the tradition of French Decorative Arts with a contemporary vision. Their gallery pieces have the rare ability to serve more than its primary function, leading to a quietly powerful design presence, that is often sculptural, always elegant and approaching iconic.
